Context

This specific target group mainly failed at school (while some of them never went there) before committing their first offence which brought them to face tribunal and a judge for minors.

A GRUNDTVIG partnership project of five partners showed that, firstly, a variety of staffs (not directly involved in education) are in regular contact with this target group and that, secondly, there are alternative measures to imprisonment which must be considered as a new chance to escape from reoffending.

Work packages to be experimented / axes of research

- ☞ Diagnostic survey about target groups
- ☞ Interdisciplinary cooperation
- ☞ Mental health in regard of young offenders
- ☞ Alternative measures to avoid imprisonment
- ☞ Reintegration and recidivism (methodologies)
