| 13.00-13.45 | Social Innovations – Solving the Problem of Inclusion in the Labour Market. (In english) Innovative projects provide for the development of unique and innovative problem solving methods in the field of the labour market. When projects end the innovative methods which they have developed often are forgotten. It is therefore of key importance that institutions which can potentially benefit from them shall know of their existence. Inclusive Europe has a twin counterpart and project in Poland together with National Supporting Institution who will present a number of exciting social innovation projects from Poland and new ideas from Inclusive Europe participants. Beata Rybicka-Dominiak - National Supporting Institution, Poland Maciej Jamrozik - National Supporting Institution, Poland | Including the Disabled by Tearing Down the Barriers (In english) Tear down the barriers! More than a million people in Sweden and 15% of the EU population have a disability. This must not become an obstacle. Here, Handisam – the Swedish Agency for Disability Policy Coordination – present some major initiatives to change the opportunities for disabled in the labour market. The project Hjärnkoll ("Brain Control") focuses on the large group of people with psychological illnesses. Celebrities share their experiences of these illnesses, through Hjärnkoll. The project will also talk about a few transnational projects focusing on this area. The Process Support for Accessibility has supported Social Fund Projects in becoming more accessible for persons with disabilities. Together with the Swedish Institute of Assistive Technology they will all demonstrate ways to include disabled in the labour market. Ola Bjalke - Handisam -The Swedish Agency for Disability Policy Co-ordination Stefan Åkesson - Process support Accessibility Rickard Bracken - Project "Hjärnkoll" (Brain control) Terry Skehan - Handikappinstitutet - Swedish Institute of Assistive Technology |
